

KOBI HALPERIN

August 23rd, 2017

To Whom It May Concern:

I write this letter on behalf of designer Maital Levitan. I am the Creative Chief Officer of the fashion design house under my namesake, Kobi Halperin.

During the summer of 2016, Maital interned at my label as part of the design team. Maital assisted in preparing CAD's, tech packs, creating mood boards, researching inspiration, designing lace elements and trims, among other creative tasks for my brand. She was an integrated part of the design team and helped in the different stages of the process. Maital always offered her help and was always happy to assist with the different assignments she was given.

I recommend Maital to your team, she has a bright future and I'm sure she will be a great asset to your company.

Kind regards,
